The Construction Centre to Exhibit at Ecobuild

The Construction Centre is set to exhibit next week at the UK's largest sustainable building products show; Ecobuild.

The exhibition is at Earls Court in London from 3rd – 5th March and the show is likely to attract record numbers this year, with over 800 exhibitors and boasts a string of high profile guest speakers.

The Construction Centre said that having visited the show in previous years, it was a valuable platform from which to promote the website and raise brand awareness. Situated on Stand GS32 in the Green Shoots Pavilion, The Construction Centre will be offering a guided tour around the website and advice on building products and services.

The Construction Centre is the UK's largest specialist online resource for the building industry with over 100,000 product categories and 15,000 suppliers and manufacturers. The website receives over 14,000 visitors every day who are predominantly professionals within the industry such as contractors, housebuilders, architects and specifiers.

Richard Simmons, Managing Director at The Construction Centre said, "The show will provide a fantastic marketing opportunity for us to help continue to raise the profile of our website. We are the leading website in the construction industry, providing a fast and efficient way for people to find the product suppliers they are looking for. With sustainability being such a significant part of the building industry now, we have thousands of categories which will help people find both general and specialised products in this area."

The Construction Centre has been regularly invited as a seminar guest to Grand Designs in London and Birmingham and in 2008 exhibited at Interbuild and the Homebuilding and Renovating show.

Angela Gallacher, Head of Press and Marketing commented "Ecobuild is an exceptional show which addresses the very serious issues of reducing the impact on climate change and the use of sustainable building products and practices. It is an essential show for anyone who is looking to research or undertake a building project whether small or large. The Construction Centre will play a valuable part at the exhibition to show both consumers and businesses how building products, information and solutions can be sourced effectively."

The Construction Centre will be offering free promotional items and advice to anyone visiting the stand and for businesses in the industry, an advertising trial on the website.
