Chance to find out about GEZE creative solutions

As the UK's only company to offer both door and window automation, GEZE's experts will be on hand at Specifi London to offer advice and inspiration on intelligent building networking.

The GEZE team will explain how the company's responsive and multi-functional systems can optimise building performance whilst providing cost-effective and comfortable working environments.

Taking place at Crypt on the Green in Clerkenwell on Thursday 30th November from 4.30pm, Specifi is designed for architects and designers to keep up to date with the latest trend in a relaxed environment.

The free-to-attend event includes a seminar: "Notes from the next industrial revolution" by Alastair Parvin – Co-founder of Wikihouse, an expo and networking as well as a complimentary bar and 3-course dinner. For further information about the event visit www.specifi.co.uk

GEZE solutions turn buildings into Smart Buildings. As a system provider the company combines safety systems and drive technology to create innovative, networked and modular solutions; everything from a single source. With new interface modules, GEZE products can also be integrated into the widely used communication standards of home and building system technology.
