MASCo WALCOT Improves Navigation on Website

Architectural salvage specialist MASCo WALCOT has improved the navigation on its website, making it even easier to take a look at the broad and diverse range of eclectic stock available.

With a real range of prices at MASCo WALCOT, finding a large or small original piece for the home or garden is not out of reach. Traditional materials offer improved durability and genuine quality materials. Customers may pay a little more upfront, though this is not always the case, but can be assured the result will be beautiful, tactile and authentic.

Antiques and reclaimed materials are by their very nature 100% recycled. So they are a sustainable, high quality and responsible choice. They also promise a more unique and original finish than the high street alternative.

MASCo WALCOT's website www.walcot.com now allows people to search by given priorities which they can select from a drop down menu; including most recent items, price low to high, with easy click through access to further information and detailed sizing for most items, (available as an easy to download pdf).

Customers can visit the yard at Cirencester Road, Chalford, Stroud, Gloucestershire.
