Stocksigns proud to announce triple ISO Certification

Signage expert Stocksigns are delighted to share with you their latest news of achieving three new ISO accreditations.

This is the latest in a long line of professional accreditations the company is proud to hold. 18 months ago, the team at Stocksigns were delighted to announce their Silver Construction Line membership which was very quickly followed up with a Gold membership. The membership is "an increased level of scrutiny and assurance", which has been achieved through numerous validations assessments for our environmental management, quality management, equal opportunities, modern slavery act adherence, anti-bribery and corruption policies.

7 months ago, Stocksigns added a new accreditation to their wall of fame from RISQS, Railway Industry Supplier Qualification Scheme, which "features a smarter, quicker, easier platform and enhanced audit services, providing the industry with supplier assurance fit for the future."

ISO Standards are a key part of their business to ensure quality and safety is maintained in both products and services. The three new standards now under Stocksigns belt are: ISO 14001:2015 Environmental Management System; ISO 45001:2018 Occupational Health & Safety; ISO 9001:2015 Quality Management.

ISO 9001 is the internationally recognised standard for managing your business in a quality way. It's relevant to and can be adopted by, any organisation in any business sector, regardless of whether you provide a service or product.

At Stocksigns Steve Wright (pictured) is the quality guru.

The benefits of implementing ISO 14001 and ISO 45001 is to discover and gain control of hazards resulting from the running of our business. It will help us demonstrate legal compliance, improve our safety culture, discover and control the effects our company has on the environment.

Stocksigns is dedicated to providing the highest quality product and service to every customer, for every project. That is why the business undergoes frequent assessments and audits for all the vital accreditations and memberships which allow us to stay on course to be one of the UK's highest quality signage providers.
