Kerry Brown joins Vortice as Area Business Manager

Joining the Vortice sales team this month as Area Business Manager for the South West, is Kerry Brown who is based in Devon. Kerry studied at Plymouth University and is keen to enter the ventilation industry at a time when the world begins to understand the importance to human health of good indoor air quality.

In her spare time, Kerry enjoys weight-lifting, martial arts and horse riding. Vortice Sales Director Paul Gunner said: "We welcome Kerry to the team and look forward to the fresh approach she can bring to supporting developers, contractors, architects and specifiers in the South West."
